

Homeopathic Pellets

Homeopathic medicinal pellets are often dispensed in a small glass vial. The cap is used to measure the dose, typically just one layer of pellets on the bottom of the cap (called a monolayer). This is then placed directly in the mouth without food. The pellets are sweet tasting and dissolve quickly. Pellets may also be dissolved in water and then given as a liquid.