

Activator Adjusting Instrument

This tool, called an Activator, is used to provide spinal and limb adjustments using a technique called Veterinary Orthopedic Manipulation. It provides a very fast and very light force to key areas around joints, helping them to regain normal function. There are four force settings since this tool is also used for humans, but for dogs and cats the lightest setting is used (appropriate for children).